

UWA Friends of the Grounds Membership Information

The UWA Friends of the Grounds welcomes new members. Our University is a 'campus without gates' and we invite you to become a member and join like-minded Friends and learn about, and enjoy, one of our most treasured and loved resources.

The University of Western Australia's campus at Crawley is acknowledged as one of the most beautiful in Australia. Its gardens are registered by the Australian Heritage Commission, it is listed on the National Estate and was awarded the inaugural Civic Design Award in 1986. Besides providing an inspirational and holistic learning and teaching environment, the campus grounds have been a significant tourist attraction for many years and are the setting for many business, community and cultural events

Our group was established by the University through the Hackett Foundation in 2000 to enhance and support the appreciation and understanding of its grounds through an annual program of activities which include:

- * information to enable self-guided walks on specific subjects such as architecture, gardens, art and sculpture
- * conducted tours with talks related to the history, architecture, art, vegetation and wildlife
- * lectures, seminars and films on related subjects
- * musical and social events
- * opportunities to assist with UWA Friends of the Grounds Projects and Working Group activities

Members will receive the following benefits:

- * regular newsletters with information on all activities and events organised by the Friends of the Grounds, including campus tours, guest lectures, films, musical and social events
